

Playground '16 - '07

What is the importance of the medium performance today? Which challenges are occurring? And which role has Playground in this context? This set of questions was presented at a selection of artists and curators who visited the festival. Their reflections on ten years Playground led to a new publication, in which curators Steven Vandervelden (STUK) and Eva Wittocx (M-Museum Leuven) also share their vision. As a result the book presents a unique retrospective on the national and international importance of the festival.
